

STORIES BY THE SURVIVORS OF LATEST SEA DISASTER

Rescued Passengers and Crew of the Monroe Tell of the Great Terror of the Foggy Night Which Clutched Their Feet.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—Thrilling are the stories told by those rescued from the jaws of death when the Old Dominion Steamship Company's steamer Monroe bound from Norfolk to New York, turned turtle at sea within ten minutes after she had been in collision with the Merchants' & Miners' Transportation Company's steamer Nantucket in a dense fog off the Virginia coast early Friday morning. Revised lists put the loss of life at 43 of which number 19 were passengers and 24 passengers and crew of the Monroe and 24 members of the Monroe's crew.

It was as if they had come from the dead when eight of the Monroe's passengers, whom wireless reports had put in the list of lost, walked or were borne from the steamer Nantucket when the latter landed the rescued at Norfolk this afternoon. These were George Marlow, of New York; Mrs. John M. Ray, of New York; E. P. Lyons, of New York; but lately of Richmond, Va., and Savannah, Ga.; B. B. Vernon, of New York; W. C. Clausen, of Milwaukee; Ed Gorman, of Philadelphia; W. Albert Snyder, of East Orange, N. J., and C. W. Poole of Gray, Va.

Mrs. Ray's husband was lost and she was tonight in Norfolk without friends or means. The Old Dominion Steamship Company through its assistant general manager, E. E. Paley, did everything possible, however, for the comfort of all survivors and Mrs. Ray is being cared for at a local hotel until she can communicate with her friends and determine when she will proceed to New York. The case of Mrs. Ray, a beautiful girl not over 25 years, is one of the very sad ones of the disaster. She was rescued in her night robe. "My husband and all cut his own throat from ear to ear, then fell into the sea.

Negroes Behaved Well.
Though some of the negroes lost their head in the end, there has been notable commendation of their conduct generally and there are none who have anything but praise for the general demeanor of the negroes aboard of the Monroe in the great excitement following the collision.

Mrs. T. J. Woods, of Norfolk, was hurrying to New York to be with her husband, whose death occurred there almost simultaneously with the sinking of the Monroe this morning. Mrs. Wood with a wounded head, was borne from the steamer Nantucket today, ignorant of her husband's death. She was almost overcome from exhaustion. Mrs. Woods being rescued, was pulled by a rope through one of the Nantucket's port holes.

W. Albert Snyder, of East Orange, N. J., in business at 130 Front street, New York, was among those of the rescued who had to be sent to the hospital. Snyder, who was long in the water, is suffering from exhaustion.

W. C. Clausen, of 549 Sixty-fourth avenue, Milwaukee, came from the Nantucket, as did many others, with his pajamas and a blanket as his only garments. He had a cut foot, but is otherwise in good shape. Clausen was among those first reported lost. He was anxious that it be made known he is still alive.

Ralph Flanagan, 82 Hull street, went to the hospital temporarily. He is not hurt.

James O'Connell, of Washington, D. C., escaped injury. He was in the water for some time, but is only slightly indisposed from his experience.

A. G. Brown, of Brooklyn, was among those who were forced to walk along on the side of the Monroe as she careened just before sinking. Finally all were washed into the sea. The Monroe went down easily, however, and there was but little suction.

STOCK EXPERT WAS HERE YESTERDAY

Dr. Sorrell of the Southern Railway Expresses Views About
Anderson County

"The best live stock section of Virginia is no better for raising cattle than is Anderson County," said Dr. Walter Sorrell, assistant live stock agent of the Southern Railway, when he returned to the city last night. Dr. Sorrell had been spending the day in Anderson County, visiting some half-breed prominent farmers who are interested in the raising of live stock, and who are striving to interest their neighbors.

Discussing his visit here with a reporter for The Intelligence last night, Dr. Sorrell said that he was here principally to get a line on the live stock industry in this section. He said that Anderson was one of the best situated counties for live stock raising to be found either in the Carolinas or Virginia, and pointed to some of the advantages that Anderson possesses, stressing the fact that there is plenty of running water, whereas in some counties this cannot be obtained. He said that his examination yesterday of the soil of the county showed him that it was particularly adapted to grass growing, and cited this as a decided advantage of this section over the Western States. "Yet," said Dr. Sorrell, "your people are content to continue importing cattle from the west, when they can raise better cattle here at home."

He said that if the people of this immediate section of the Piedmont country would put time on their grazing lands and prepare them as they have been prepared in Virginia, that they would put the live stock industry on a better basis than could be found in the entire United States.

Dr. Sorrell said that with the advent of the movement to purchase brood stock and raise mules and horses at home, the troubles of the farmer had come to an end. He considers that this is one of the most important factors that any farmer is being made along this line. He said that he had personally bought two cars of brood mares to this section of the country and that he could have placed many more if he had been able to secure them. He expects to triple this number next fall.

He said that he was well pleased in every respect with his visit to Anderson and that he considers the outlook for this county very bright and most promising.

PRESIDENT FLED And There Is No Government in Haiti

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 30.—The steamer Sardinia arrived here today from Port Au Prince bringing August Bonamy, Haitian minister of finance, and A. Guillaud, Haitian minister of public instruction and justice, who fled from Haiti because of the revolution. It is reported that President Michel Oreste will reach Kingston on the steamer Prochaine.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The policy adopted by the United States regarding Haiti, which has been left without a government by the flight of the President at the approach of revolutionists, will depend upon developments during the next few days.

The Wisconsin "compensation act" gives $750,000 a year to disabled men. And South Carolina gives only $250,000 to her Confederate soldiers alone.

BLEASE'S MESSAGE WHICH STARTED MUSS

Reflected Upon the Father of Senator Christensen of Beaufort County.

Columbia, Jan. 30.—The following is the governor's message which created such a stir in the senate Thursday night.

"I notice from the Journal that, in rising to a question of personal privilege one Neils Christensen styling himself Senator from Beaufort, has seen fit to say that I was once trustee of a negro college. This is true, but when he says that I was a candidate for the job, he is mistaken. The facts are that some years ago some friends of mine came to me and stated that on account of the fact that I was opposed to white people's money being used to educate negroes, they wanted me to go on the board of trustees of the State Colored College. After conversation with them, I finally agreed, for the purpose of endeavoring to reduce appropriations for that institution. I went on the board and found there as good men as South Carolina has ever produced, and none of them had been captain or sons of the captains of a negro company in the Union army, who led charges with negro troops against the white soldiers of the Southern Confederacy.

That, however, in my opinion, is quite different from being trustee of a private negro school. I believe practically every board of white trustees in the State also trustees of negro public schools, but I do not believe that those trustees would for a moment accept the trusteeship of a private negro school. Nor do I believe they would give negroes as their reference.

Today I am ex-officio chairman of the board of trustees of the negro college for this state. Every other Governor has been since that college was established. Therefore, any fiction trustee of a negro college, would have to decline to be trustee of the State. But this is quite different from being the trustee of a private negro school and giving negroes as references.

WARNS LEGISLATURE Governor May Use His Veto Power Again

Columbia, Jan. 30.—Following is a message sent to the general assembly Thursday night by Governor Bleas:

"I have in messages heretofore called your attention to the appropriations made for the State's higher institutions of learning. I desire now again to call your attention to this matter, and to suggest that you pass your appropriation bill in such shape that you will not be of necessity forced to override a veto of an entire amount for fear of closing or injuring any school, and that you will not be forced in this manner to vote for a much larger appropriation than is necessary for the school.

"I would suggest, therefore, that when you pass your appropriation bill, instead of saying, for instance, for the University of South Carolina $198,000, that you say, for the University of South Carolina, for maintenance so much, law building so much, new dormitory so much, and so on—that is, that you pass it in itemized items, and not in bulk items.

I fear, gentlemen, that if you do not do this, some of these institutions are going to make extraordinarily large demands this year, and that you will find yourselves in a position, when you shall have finished, that you will have to raise your State tax considerably and that if I should decide to use the veto power that the argument will then be used to you. "Oh, if you sustain this veto you will close the school, you will hurt the college."

"Now I do not know that I am going to veto any of the items in the appropriation bill. I think possibly it is about time, just on the eve of an election, to let you gentlemen do just as you please, then for the Governor to sign the bill, and issue a statement or at least explain the fact of his signing the bill, as he goes around the rostrum this summer, and let you and your constituents fight it out, in regard to the

PHYSICIANS MUST RETURN REPORTS

All Contagious Diseases in Anderson Must Be Reported to State Board.

Local physicians have received a letter from James A. Hayne, M. D., State health officer, calling their attention to the law which requires every physician to report to the state board of health every case of contagious or communicable disease, upon a penalty of $25 fine for failure to comply with the requirement. A copy of the letter which was sent to 1,300 physicians of the state follows:
